Journals

“Journals are at the heart of academic publishing and we are proud to support the international social sciences community with our range of prestigious, critical and engaging titles. The continued development of Bristol University Press means we are building a coherent and influential list of not-for-profit journals with real world as well as academic impact.”

JULIA MORTIMER, JOURNALS DIRECTOR

Our journals list is growing rapidly with fourteen titles publishing in 2019.

Two well established journals will be joining our Bristol University Press list: Longitudinal and Life Course Studies, the Journal of the Society for Longitudinal and Life Course Studies (SLLS) and Global Discourse: An Interdisciplinary Journal of Current Affairs which moves to us from Taylor and Francis. In addition, we are delighted to be launching Emotions and Society in association with the European Sociological Association’s Research Network on the Sociology of Emotions.

New to the Policy Press imprint in 2019 is the pioneering Journal of Psychosocial Studies, the adopted journal of The Association for Psychosocial Studies.

Publish with us

Building on the award-winning Policy Press, Bristol University Press is developing its journals list to expand into a broader range of social science disciplines, including Business and Management, Economics and Society, Law, Sociology and Politics and International Relations.

As a not-for-profit publisher we share many of the same values as the organisations and individuals we work with, and we pride ourselves on our collaborative ethos and commitment to quality.

Although we are not a large commercial publisher we punch well above our weight when it comes to maximising readership and enhancing discoverability of our journals worldwide. We can offer a range of different models including fully Open Access and hybrid, and we are well placed to advise societies and associations on the different options available to them.

Longitudinal and Life Course Studies

Volume 10 | 2019, 4 issues

Impact Factor: 0.911

Executive Editor: Heather Joshi, Institute of Education, UCL, UK

Section Editors: Behavioural Sciences and Development: Jeylan Mortimer, University of Minnesota, US; Health and Population Sciences: Scott Montgomery, Örebro University Hospital and Örebro University, Sweden; Social and Economic Sciences: Peter Elias, University of Warwick, UK; Statistical Sciences and Methodology: Marc Scott, New York University, US

Published in association with the Society for Longitudinal and Life Course Studies.

SLLS Society for Longitudinal and Life Course Studies

“Longitudinal and Life Course Studies provides a much-needed outlet for high quality interdisciplinary research on the life course. No other journal offers life course researchers as wide a range of disciplines, topics, and methods.”

MARY CLARE LENNON, CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK, USA

Longitudinal and Life Course Studies (LLCS) is a peer-reviewed journal dedicated to the needs of researchers studying the life course and using longitudinal methods at the interfaces of social, developmental and health sciences. It fosters cross-disciplinary and international endeavours and promotes the creation and exploitation of longitudinal data resources as well as their application to policy issues.

As the journal of the Society for Longitudinal and Life Course Studies (SLLS) it provides an opportunity for scholars at all stages of their careers to publish work crossing disciplinary boundaries which is often beyond the scope of more conventional, single-field journals.

Included in the Social Sciences Citation Index.

Global Discourse:

An Interdisciplinary Journal of Current Affairs

Volume 9 | 2019, 4 issues

Editor: Matthew Johnson, Lancaster University, UK

Deputy Editors: Shannon Brincat, University of the Sunshine Coast, Australia; Simon Mabon, Lancaster University, UK

North American Consultative Editor: Debra L. DeLaet, Drake University, US

“Global Discourse provides a valuable platform for the exploration and dissemination of the critical issues shaping our times. It should be read by everybody seeking originality, insight and reflection in exploring the key challenges faced by society from the global to the local contexts.”

CATHAL O’CONNELL, SCHOOL OF APPLIED SOCIAL STUDIES, UNIVERSITY COLLEGE CORK, IRELAND

Global Discourse is an interdisciplinary, problem-oriented journal of applied contemporary thought operating at the intersection of politics, international relations, sociology and social policy. The Journal’s scope is broad, encouraging interrogation of current affairs with regard to core questions of distributive justice, wellbeing, cultural diversity, autonomy, sovereignty, security and recognition.

All issues are themed and aimed at addressing pressing issues as they emerge. Rejecting the notion that publication is the final stage in the research process, Global Discourse seeks to foster discussion and debate between often artificially isolated disciplines and paradigms, with responses to articles encouraged and conversations continued across issues.

Emotions and Society

Volume 1 | 2019, 2 issues

Editors-in-Chief: Mary Holmes, University of Edinburgh, UK; Åsa Wettergren, Gothenburg University, Sweden

Co-Editor: Nathan Manning, University of Adelaide, Australia

"A very valuable addition to sociology and the study of society... edited by a highly qualified team it has already attracted ground breaking articles on the various interactions and relationships between emotions, individuals and their societies."

BENET DAVETIAN, UNIVERSITY OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, CANADA

Emotions and Society aims to publish high-quality, original peer-reviewed articles which advance theoretical and empirical understanding of emotions in social life. It is associated with the European Sociological Association (ESA) Research Network on the Sociology of Emotions and seeks submissions from a wide range of international authors writing in this area. The sociology of emotions has developed unique perspectives on emotions that attend to their social construction and the ways in which they are embedded in social structures and inhere in social processes.

The Journal seeks to expand the largely unexhausted potential for developing innovative approaches not only to emotions per se, but to the social generally. All methodological approaches to studying emotions are welcome, but they should demonstrate rigour and be framed in ways that will be of interest to sociologically inclined scholars.

Regional Editors: Matthew H. Bowker, Medaille College, USA; Steffen Krueger, University of Oslo, Norway

Online ISSN: 1478-6737
Frequency: July (double issue)
and October

Published in association with The Association for Psychosocial Studies

"A much needed place to animate and inspire others in the field of psychosocial research and writing – a plenum of innovative ideas about clinical and critical theory, contemporary hermeneutics, and social philosophy."

CLAUDE BARBRE, CHICAGO SCHOOL OF PROFESSIONAL PSYCHOLOGY, USA

The Journal of Psychosocial Studies publishes work that falls within the broad transdisciplinary area of Psychosocial Studies, defined by a commitment to understanding the significance of the links between internal and external worlds. Psychosocial Studies draws on a range of disciplines to explore the interactive relationships between self, culture and society.

As the adopted journal of The Association for Psychosocial Studies (APS) it especially seeks to promote work that is interdisciplinary and considers issues of practice. The Journal of Psychosocial Studies provides space for research and writing that crosses the traditional boundaries between disciplines in the social sciences, humanities and the arts.

European Journal of Politics and Gender

Volume 2 | 2019, 3 issues

Editors: Petra Ahrens, University of Antwerp, Belgium and University of Tampere, Finland; Karen Celis, Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium; Sarah Childs, Birkbeck, University of London, UK; Isabelle Engeli, University of Exeter, UK; Elizabeth Evans, Goldsmiths University of London, UK; Liza Mügge, University of Amsterdam, Netherlands

Published in association with the European Conference on Politics and Gender

"Gender is everywhere in politics, but gender analysis is not. This much needed international journal is led by an outstanding group of gender scholars with a range of political specialties and perspectives. This new journal will soon be a must read!"

MYRA MARX FERREE, ALICE H. COOK, UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON, USA

The European Journal of Politics and Gender (EJPG) is a peer-reviewed journal that publishes international, cutting-edge research in the broad field of politics and gender. It is the flagship journal of the European Conference on Politics and Gender (ECPG).

EJPG is firmly embedded in global politics and gender scholarship, and its scope is not limited to Europe. EJPG aims to advance gender and politics research in all its diversity. To this end it publishes articles in the wide field of gender and politics, including a variety of geographical and thematic foci, methods and epistemological traditions.

Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice

Volume 34 | 2019, 2 issues

Founding Editor: Domenico da Empoli (1941-2016)

Editor-in-Chief: Emma Galli, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy

Editor: Giampaolo Garzarelli, Sapienza University of Rome, Italy; IPEG University of the Witwatersrand, Johannesburg, South Africa

Advisory Editor: Stefano da Empoli, Roma Tre University, Italy

Consulting Editors: James Alm, Tulane University, US; Richard E. Wagner, George Mason University, US; John J. Wallis, University of Maryland, US; Barry R. Weingast, Stanford University, US; Ronald Wintrobe, Western University, Canada

"New technology and dynamic editorial talent, mark both the return of the Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice and a significant milestone in the history of transoceanic cooperation between scholars of Public Finance and Public Choice."

J.R. CLARK, THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE AT CHATTANOOGA, USA

The Journal of Public Finance and Public Choice (JPFPC) was founded in 1983 by Professor Domenico da Empoli in the spirit of the Italian discipline of Scienza delle finanze. According to this approach, economic analysis should include individual motivations in non-market settings, political institutions, and collective decision-making.

Relunched in 2018 in partnership with Bristol University Press, JPFPC is unique in the international landscape of public economics journals because it is committed to explicitly advancing knowledge in both public finance and public choice, reflecting an inclusive approach.

Policy Press Scholarship Online

"What a wonderful resource! Nice layout and ready access to chapters and descriptions. So many tempting books to purchase or access via library subscription."

ROS BURNETT, UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

Policy Press Scholarship Online (PPSO) is our digital monograph collection, in partnership with Oxford University Press. The collection provides access to over 600 scholarly titles in a variety of subject areas, including Sociology, Law, Criminology, Business and Management, Politics and International Relations, Social Work, Public Health and Epidemiology. This collection of high-quality academic monographs is an essential research resource for students and academics alike.

PPSO streamlines the research process by making disparately published scholarship easily accessible, highly discoverable, and fully cross-searchable via one online platform. PPSO greatly enhances the ability for Policy Press' scholarly publishing to be found and used by academics globally.

Benefits for academics, researchers and libraries:

- Filter results to view your subject specialisations
- Save time with at-a-glance keywords and abstracts
- Quickly build bibliographies with automatic export citations
- Save links to favourite books, chapters and searches
- Use and share content in multiple formats
- Readability, functional, and ease-of-use.
